NEIL GALBRAITH had his head cut severely on Monday morning last by a shingle block falling on it while he was working in Fraser & Co's mill. A gash about three inches long was made.

SCHOOL taxes to the amount of $2,600 have been paid in to the treasurer of the district up to date; $1,850 has been paid out leaving a balance of $750 in his hands. The estimated liabilities up to Nov. 1st amounted to $2,100. The debt on the school building has been paid off.

THE Emigrant a 24-page monthly appeared in Winnipeg on June 1st. J. A. Carman proprietor, subscription $1. Its page is the same size as the BULLETIN, it is well printed on good paper and contains a large amount of valuable information concerning Manitoba and the North-West.

CROOKSTON, Minnesota, was recently visited by a destructive cyclone. Manitoba has always prided itself on its freedom from these terrors of the air, but it had better keep pretty still after this. A healthy cyclone would not take long to measure the distance from Crookston to Emerson.

THE Calgary Herald says of the Travis investigation: "If the commission on J. Travis only sits long enough, and everybody in town gets giving his opinion as to the respectability of every body else before it, by the time it is over there won't be two people in town on speaking terms with each other."

PETITIONS are being circulated in Edmonton and St. Albert settlements among the heads of half breed families claiming scrip for all half breed children born up to the present date, on the ground that as there has been no previous settlement of North-West half breed claims this settlement should include all claims to date.

THE Calgary Tribune is ventilating some of the land board decisions in the vicinity of that town. They seem to have a strong family resemblance to those at Edmonton. Several original settlers before survey who happen to be on C. P. land are notified that they are at the mercy of the company. This is encouraging to pioneers.

THE St. Paul Pioneer-Press has a Nebraska telegram stating that five hundred Ogalala Sioux of the Rosebud agency intend visiting the Crow Indians at their invitation on their reservation in Montana, immediately south of Cypress hills, for the purpose of trading horses with them, although the agent has forbidden their going.

E. LYONS had a narrow escape from lightning during the rain storm of Sunday last. He was sitting in his blacksmith shop when the lightning entered by the open window, struck a bar of iron almost close to him and went into the ground, making a small hole. Lyons was stunned by the shock for a short time, but otherwise was uninjured.

THE picnic given by the ladies of All Saints' church, Edmonton, on Tuesday last in the Hermitage grove, the property of Rev. Canon Newton, was a grand success. A flag floating from the top of an immense staff near the Hermitage, assisted by pointers to the different turns in the roads guided strangers to the place. The Hermitage and grounds, decorated with flags, tents and mottoes of "Welcome," made one of the most suitable places imaginable for picnicking. About noon the pleasure seekers began to arrive. Dinner was served at 2 p.m. in the grove on a table about 60 feet long. The Rev. Dr. presiding. The spread would have done credit to our most fashionable eastern towns. Notwithstanding the size of the table it was filled the third time before all were served. Dinner over the party enjoyed themselves by promenading, swinging, dancing, etc. A tug-of-war between the boys became so interesting that the men could not refrain from taking part. About 5 p.m. a smart shower demonstrated the wisdom of having tents; though the dense foliage of the grove did not allow much of the rain to reach the ground. At 6:30 all partook of the delicacies a second time with a zest that showed their appreciation of the tasty spread. As soon as it was dark a colored light contributed by Daly & Co. illuminated the place for a short time. Then came the fire-works, comprising fire-crackers, colored lights, sky rockets, Roman candles and Catharine wheels, but owing to their having been damaged by the wet they did not make the display they otherwise would have done. Great credit is due the ladies of All Saints', especially Mrs. W. Anderson, and also the friends of Clover Bar, for their management and assistance. The garden as well as the grove and every building and room of the Hermitage were thrown open to all. The receipts amounted to $125.

CAPT. DOHERTY of the 65th who was in command of the company stationed at Ft. Saskatchewan last summer will contest a Montreal constituency for the Quebec local elections as a conservative.

MCKAY & MCKINLEY telegraph repairers came in on Monday from the work of building a repairer's station on the line at the western side of the fifteen-mile plain. They report a terrific hail storm a few miles east of Hay lakes on Sunday. Stones as large as a prairie chicken's egg fell. The storm swept a strip about five miles in width. Grass and pea vine are very rank in the country along the line, reaching above the waist and almost impossible to travel through.

It may please some of the teamsters who were docked on either time or rates for their services with the troops to Pitt last spring to know that the Bell farm teams and those the private property of Major Bell, received $10 a day from the beginning of the outbreak until the 1st of May, and $8 a day from that time until their return to Indian Head after the transport business was wound up. At the same time Major Bell was paying $4.50 a day to teams to haul freight for which the government paid him $125 a ton.

LE FRANCO-CANADIEN gives Mr. Royal, the proposed new Indian commissioner the following send off: "Another paid halterman is M. Jos. Royal, member for Provencher, who sold the Metis, his electors, for the place of Indian Commissioner for the North-West. To the Metis he owes his fortune in the North-West. He was Louis Riel's friend. No member was more to be relied upon to condemn the action of the Ottawa fanatics. He coolly approved Riel's execution, but then he was sure of his reward. Poor Metis."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JULY 3, 1886.

The Newfoundland legislature has taken a very sensible course on the question of Irish home rule as a provincial political issue. Newfoundland is settled chiefly by people of Irish descent, the Protestants considerably outnumbering the Catholics. The old Irish conflict has been transferred to Newfoundland in all its original bitterness, and two years ago riots occurred in which several of each side were killed. As a result the legislature was dissolved and a new one elected which divided on sectarian lines alone, the Protestants having a considerable majority. During the late session two of the Catholic members moved and seconded a resolution in favor of home rule for Ireland, which might have been expected to result in a very serious legislative row. Strange to say, however, when the motion was made every Catholic member except the mover and seconder left the chamber, and as a number of the Protestant members had remained absent to avoid voting on the question the house was left without a quorum, an adjournment ensued and the matter dropped right there. Every effort should be made to induce Newfoundland to enter confederation. An infusion of such an amount of good common sense as its legislature seems to possess could not fail to have a beneficial effect on our house of commons. As much could not be said for the infusion of house of commons ideas into the Newfoundlanders, but that of course is none of our funeral. The Newfoundland legislators instead of trying to inflame the passions of their people in the hope of advancing themselves, at the risk of political ruin to themselves they set an example of mutual forbearance that cannot fail of good results to the people of the province.

The rebellion claims commission in reject. ing the claims of teamsters and scouts for damage to and loss of horses, gave as a reason that the rate of pay received by them was ample to cover wear, tear and loss from whatever cause. This decision it will be observed makes no distinction between teams employed in transport from the base of supplies and those employed with the moving column of troops. Both sets of teams received the same pay during a great part of the time they were employed, while it must be evident that those accompanying the troops into action were engaged on a different service and entitled to greater consideration than those who merely hauled freight to a stated point over a beaten road in perfect safety. The movements of the latter were regulated by their own necessities or wishes, their conveyance, if they had any, merely keeping with them; so if the teamsters injured their horses by over driving or from other causes the fault was largely their own, and the government might in that case incur no responsibility. But in the case of the teams with the moving columns and the scouts' horses, not only were the men exposed to personal danger, but their movements being subject to military necessity it is nonsense to say that any rate of pay—unless by special agreement to that effect—is necessarily sufficient compensation. It is very easy to imagine a military necessity that would require the shooting of a number of horses, to say nothing of being placed in situations and made to do work that would necessarily result in their permanent injury or death, in which case a few days' pay at even a very high rate could be no adequate compensation. The teams with General Strange's column and the scouts' horses were subject to military exigency in the rate travelled, the work done, the country passed through, the food given and the danger encountered—and a number of them suffered permanent injury and death, as they would not have had they not been so subjected to military necessity. The injuries having been sustained not through the fault of the owners of the horses but through the necessities of the government service, the government not the owners should stand the loss. The owners of these horses have a legitimate claim for compensation and the refusal to consider this claim on the grounds set forth by the commission is simply a deliberate swindle.

Right or wrong, with or without cause, Nova Scotia has declared unmistakably for a repeal of its union with Canada. The argument of a majority of four to one against the union must be met. To ignore such an expression of opinion would be folly; to talk of over-riding it would be madness. It is plain that Canada must either lose Nova Scotia, and very likely also New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, or else a different principle of government must be adopted and acted upon. The policy of centralization, so contrary to the spirit and intent of the confederation act, and which year by year has been pursued more blindly and determinedly must be given up and a new policy adopted which shall recognize confederation as a fact as well as a name if Canada is to hold together. The immediate cause of Nova Scotia's dissatisfaction is not far to seek. An independent and prosperous province, confederation was thrust upon it through the perfidy of its public men and never had the loyalty of the mass of the people, who believed that they had everything to lose and nothing to gain by joining Canada. Had the country been governed in a spirit loyal to the terms of confederation Nova Scotia, which gave the system a trial for nineteen years, would probably have by this time been contented; but during these years the policy of centralization which has been pursued has been financially injurious to Nova Scotia as an outlying province and politically obnoxious to its people. The silence that has been kept so long has been a purchased silence, but the time has at last arrived when the greed has increased as the purchasing power has failed until the collapse has come. While Nova Scotia politicians were selling themselves and their province for a few fat offices, a little increase in provincial subsidy, and a paltry railroad bonus or two—to all of which Nova Scotians had to pay their share—their trade and industries were being paralyzed by high tariffs and they with the rest of the country were being sunk under a mountainous load of debt for which the province had nothing to show. The Canadian cow grazed in Nova Scotia and outlying provinces and was milked by the manufacturers, railroad bonus hunters and political suckers of Ontario and Quebec. These could well afford to throw the sprat of a fat office to catch the salmon of Nova Scotia revenue and trade. But lately there has been a great demand for sprats in other quarters, the supply has run short and the salmon have become shy.

THE 1st.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the due celebration at Edmonton of the anniversary of confederation on Thursday last. But the clerk of the weather, who is probably a secessionist, failed to smile approval, indeed went to great lengths in throwing a dampness over the occasion. The morning opened cloudy, with a tendency to drizzle, very unfavorable for the rifle shooting, but this turned to clearing weather during the forenoon and hopes of a bright day were indulged in. Refreshment tents were put up near the race course and every preparation made for a big time. There was a large turnout of people all determined to enjoy themselves, but the afternoon turned out windy and showery which made standing outside very unpleasant. Notwithstanding this however the programme was gone through and the crowd kept up and the interest was maintained to the last, the end being reached about five o'clock. The proceedings during the day were very orderly and the night was not particularly boisterous. The only accident occurred to D. E. Noyes, who had his nose injured by the handle of the sledge which slipped from D. Maloney's hand as he was throwing it in the sledge competition. The following are the events:

HERALD, Calgary, June 19: Mr. Pearce will hear the claimants to the Banff hot springs on the 24th. I. G. Baker & Co's building at the corner of McTavish street and Stephen avenue is to cost $4,000. White who has been in dispute with the Morley settlers in regard to his sheep grazing lease, has been notified by Mr. Pearce that he must either exchange it or submit to have it cancelled in two years. The Bow is very high. Blackwood of Winnipeg will start a pop factory shortly. Land warrants for the Alberta mounted rifles have been issued. Supt. Griesbach and a number of men of his troop are expected down here shortly to join the projected camp of instruction to be formed this week across the Elbow. WHEREAS it is in and by the act of the Parliament of Canada, passed in the forty-seventh year of Her Majesty's Reign, chaptered twenty-seven and intituled "An Act further to amend the Indian Act, 1880," amongst other things in effect enacted, that the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs may, when he considers it in the public interest to do so, prohibit by public notice to that effect, the sale, gift or disposal, to any Indian in the Province of Manitoba or in any part thereof, or in the North-West Territories or in any part thereof, of any fixed ammunition or ball cartridge; and any person who after such notice, without the permission in writing of the Superintendent General, sells or gives, or in any other manner conveys to any Indian in the section of country thus prohibited any fixed ammunition or ball cartridge, shall incur a penalty of not more than two hundred dollars, or shall be liable to imprisonment for a term of not more than six months, or to both fine and imprisonment, within the limits aforesaid, at the discretion of the Court before which the conviction is had:

Now Know Ye that I, the said Right Honorable Sir John Alexander Macdonald, Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, considering it to be in the public interest so to do, do hereby give public notice that the sale, gift or other disposal to any Indian in the North-West Territories of Canada or in any part thereof of any fixed ammunition or ball cartridge is hereby prohibited, and that every person who, after this notice, without the permission in writing of the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs for the time being, sells or gives away, or in any other manner conveys to any Indian in the North-West territories of Canada, or in any part thereof, any fixed ammunition or ball cartridge, will incur the penalties provided by the said act.

IN WITNESS whereof, I have hereunto subscribed these presents at my office, in the city of OTTAWA, this NINETEENTH day of August, A. D. 1885.

NOTICE.

Claims of Half-Breeds and Original White Settlers, Province of Manitoba.

WHEREAS, since the completion of the allotment of the 1,400,000 acres of land set apart under the Manitoba Act to extinguish the Indian title of the Children of the Half-Breed heads of families resident in the Province of Manitoba, on the 15th July 1879, a large number of additional claimants have come and some are still coming forward with the evidence necessary to prove that they are children of Half-Breed heads of families and were residents in the province of Manitoba at the date mentioned.

And Whereas, the 1,400,000 acres set apart under the Manitoba Act as aforesaid have been exhausted by such allotment, and by Order in Council, dated the 20th of April, 1885, it has been decided to extinguish such additional claims known as "Supplementary Claims," by an issue of $240.00 in scrip to each Half-Breed child entitled.

And Whereas, by the Act 37 Vic., Cap. 20, the Half-Breed heads of families resident in the said Province on the date mentioned, and the "Original White Settlers," and the children of such settlers, as defined in the said Act, are each entitled to receive scrip to the extent of $160.00.

And Whereas, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has deemed it expedient to limit the time within which all claims of the nature above specified may be presented; therefore PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that under the authority contained in the Order in Council above mentioned, bearing date the 20th April, 1885, all claims under and by virtue of the provisions of the said Order in Council, and the Act 37 Vic., Cap. 20, to "Half-Breed" and "Original White settlers" scrip that are not filed on or before the 1st day of May, 1886, with the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, together with the necessary proof thereof, shall cease and determine.

By Order, A. M. BURGESS, Deputy Minister of the Interior. Department of the Interior, Ottawa, May 22nd, 1886.

THE MINERS.

GEORGE FIELD, Adolph Mangot and John Morris, who left about three months ago on a prospecting trip, returned on Monday last from the McLeod river by way of Lac Ste. Anne. They had both bad and good luck on their trip. Bad luck to lose three of their five horses and to nearly starve to death themselves before reaching Lac Ste. Anne on the way in. And good luck to find good pay on the bars of McLeod river and rich specimens of quartz at the head of that stream. In going out they went by Lac Ste. Anne and the Jasper house trail to Island lake, a little east of the Pembina. Turning south-west from there they travelled along the divide between the north fork of the Saskatchewan and the Pembina, through a heavily timbered country, until they struck the north Fork some distance below the great canyon. They found nothing on the bars of this river, but the banks gave a few colors of gold. They followed the North Fork up some distance and then turned off it up a small stream which came in from the north-west. They followed this stream to its head and crossed a low divide to the head of the Pembina. Here the big snow storm of the 1st of May struck them and they were compelled to lie up for thirteen days. Their horses got nothing to eat during that time but browse and a little flour from the men's own supply. This caused the men to run out of provisions before the end of their trip and they only succeeded in saving two out of the five horses. They found nothing good on the Pembina, which heads in the foot-hills not the mountains. Leaving the head of the Pembina they crossed to the McLeod, which here lies between the foot-hills and the first range of the Rockies and there found excellent indications of gold. They picked up some detached fragments of quartz at the foot of a hill which show gold in large quantities, but were unable to find the lead from which they came as their provisions were running short and they were therefore compelled to make all haste to Lac Ste. Anne. They followed the McLeod down through a country of heavy burnt timber very difficult to travel through until they reached the Jasper house trail which they followed to Lac Ste. Anne. At the crossing of the MacLeod, eighty miles from Lac Ste. Anne, their stock of provisions was down to five pounds of flour, at the Pembina they made a sumptuous meal on boiled pea vine, at Island lake they caught one small fish and from there to Lac Ste. Anne nothing. They killed a few beaver on the trip, but game generally was very scarce. Moose seemed to be more numerous than anything else. The party did not see Burke or Nelsen but heard from Indians that they were working on the McLeod about thirty miles down from the crossing and were doing so well that they had determined not to go on to Smoky river as they originally intended. The party intend to go back and work on the McLeod bars for the rest of the summer, which they say prospect up to twenty cents a pan, as they have not sufficient funds to go after the quartz at present. By the map the locality where specimens were picked up is about forty miles south-east of Jasper house.
